BOOK SYNOPSIS

Excerpt from The Farm Bureau Movement The pages which follow are written with a two-fold object in view. First; to give to those non-agricultural groups who may have either a business, political or social interest in the Farm Bureau Movement, a better understanding of its background, origin, structure and purposes, and, second; to present to farm bureau members and officers a systematic study of the underlying forces of which the present Farm Bureau Movement is a resultant, and an analysis - comparative rather than abstract - of the strengths and weaknesses of the organization, in order that they may the more intelligently avoid the mistakes which have wrought the ruin of other highly promising agricultural organizations. The authors belief in the possibilities of the Farm Bureau Movement for good, is supreme and his enthusiasm is tempered only by his observation of the ease and regularity with which farmers organizations of the past have speedily arrived at a state of somnolence and inaction after a brief period of promising, albeit somewhat feverish, activity. It is the hope of the author that by tracing, classifying, and labeling the ills to which farm organizations seem peculiarly prone, their symptoms may be more readily recognized by the membership when they appear in the Farm Bureau and remedies applied in time to avoid the serious consequences which ordinarily follow.
